HOLIDAY RECEPTION FOR FAMILIES OF CONNECTICUT NATIONAL GUARD SOLDIERS AND AIRMEN

SOUTH WINDSOR, Conn., - Maj. Gen. William A. Cugno, the Adjutant General and Commander of the Connecticut National Guard, announces a holiday reception for the families of deployed soldiers and airmen of the Connecticut National Guard at Maneeley's Banquet and Catering Facility, South Windsor, Sunday, December 14, 2003, from 11:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m.

“The burdens of extended deployments weigh heavily upon our families. The holiday reception is intended to honor their sacrifices and to facilitate their camaraderie,” said Cugno. “I thank Mr. Bruce Maneeley for donating his facility for this event.”

During the reception, officials will recognize the significant role of families in military deployments. Families will be provided a festive meal and children will participate in holiday activities.

With the mobilization of the 118th Medical Battalion, the Connecticut National Guard has more than 1,160 soldiers and airmen mobilized and deployed.
